In the Schools

MARKS for the second six weeks of the last semester go in this week. Then comes the final "tap" of the scholastic year, with its reviewing, examinations and triumphs and failures. But, of course, every one is going to strive for success—for promotions and high marks. At least, that is what the school system is hoping and, "tis said, hoping for a thing sometimes makes it come true.

Three boys from each cadet company at Central High School, making a total of nine boys, will hold an individual competitive drill in the assembly hall Wednesday. The regimental officers who attend the school will act as judges. The manual of arms will constitute a large part of the program which the boys will have to go through.

Business High School's luncheon Wednesday and Thursday for the benefit of the athletic fund of the school was the "big" event of the week at that institution, of course. Everything went well and according to appearance everybody was "happy."

About fifty pupils will take part in "Konig Drosselbart," the play to be given at Eastern High School May 2 and 3. Besides the pupils of the school, it is expected that a large number of alumni will be present, as well as other friends of the institution. "Konig Drosselbart," which is adapted from one of Grimm's fairy tales, will be one of the most elaborate performances ever attempted at the school. Although the dialogue will be in German, the action is said to be very simple and as easily understood as motion picture plays.

Another educational motion picture exhibit, under the direction of some of the school teachers, was held at a 9th street motion picture theater yesterday. "Hilawatha," which is a literary study in some of the grades, was one of the prettiest pictures shown. Pictures were also displayed of the children, taken as they came to last week's performance.

Members of the Agora Debating Society of the McKinley Manual Training School participated in a mock trial at the school Wednesday afternoon. A "defendant" was tried for "larceny," and after a long argument, in his defense his case was "dismissed." It is reported everything was done in regular court style and those who witnessed it said it was very entertaining.

Senior pupils of the German classes of Business High School will give a German play May 1.

"The Girl from Havana" and the minstrel show recently given at the McKinley Manual Training School for the benefit of the athletic association will be repeated at Annapolis next Saturday. The performance will be given at the Colonial Theater of that town under the auspices of the Civic League. Special care will carry the pupils to and from the theater.

Business High School's official magazine, the Balance Sheet, will be issued in the near future.

Miss Harriet Niel and Miss Ella Cross, two teachers under whom many of the kindergarten teachers of this city received their training when the teachers' training school of Mrs. Phoebe A. Hearst was opened here, will be tendered a tea at the Raleigh Hotel tomorrow afternoon by those teachers who studied under them. Between forty and fifty persons are expected to be present.

Dr. Louise Taylor Jones, medical inspector in the public schools, will address the Parent-Teacher Association of the Bancker school at the building at 8 o'clock p.m. May 8. Her subject will be "Proper Food for Children."

A joint mothers' meeting of the Garrison, Patterson and Garnet schools was held at the Garnet School Wednesday evening. Miss M. L. Washington, principal of the Garnet School, in her introductory and welcoming remarks, indicated that the purpose of the meeting was to take some steps toward improving the training given our children.

The first speaker, Mrs. J. T. Layton, impressed the need of parents acting as missionaries to less fortunate and neglected children, of keeping children out of the streets at night, and of converting the school building into a social center. Mrs. Collier, using as a watchword "Be Vigilant," showed the value of parents gaining their children's confidence and of making the home attractive.

Mrs. Ida G. Richardson, an attendance officer, summed up the need of the co-operation of parents and teachers in increasing the enrollment of the public schools, especially in sending pupils from the ages of five to eight to school.

The importance of the right kind of food for growing school children was urged by Mrs. Julia Shaw, assistant director of domestic science. Mrs. Shaw gave the high food value of various articles which can be prepared at a small expense.

Mrs. Coralle Franklin Cook spoke on the need of moral training, the importance of religious instruction in the home, and a better observance of the Sabbath. Other points emphasized were care in selecting proper amusements, accompanying children by parents to places of amusement, simplicity in dress, assignment of definite home tasks and the necessity of sleep for the growing child.

The supervising principal of the eleventh division, Miss Marion P. Shadd, briefly touched upon the need of closer companionship of fathers with their sons and mothers with their daughters.

The parents suggested that a committee be appointed to bring in at a later period a "Mothers' Code" which will be printed and hung in a conspicuous place in their homes as a reminder of their sacred duties.

NOT GUILTY OF MURDER.

Mrs. Applebaum Acquitted of Charge of Killing Husband.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 26.—Mrs. Callie S. Applebaum was yesterday found not guilty of the murder of her husband, J. A. Applebaum, a Chicago traveling salesman, found dead in a local hotel several weeks ago. The jury deliberated thirty-six minutes.

The body of Applebaum was found the morning of February 25 last by the clerk of a hotel where Mr. and Mrs. Applebaum had been staying. Three pistol bullet wounds in the body caused death.

COURT ASKED TO ACT.

Marshall Injunction Case Still Before Supreme Court.

Attorney General Honan of Indiana has filed with the Supreme Court of the United States a request for the advancement of the appeal from the action of the Indiana state courts in enjoining Thomas H. Marshall, as governor of the state, from submitting to the voters a new constitution drafted by the state legislature.

He informed the court that the general assembly and the executive branch of the government were unable to exercise their powers without creating an unseemly contest of authority and an appearance of anarchy.

He quoted Gov. Marshall as saying that such decisions give impetus to the recall of judges for usurping their authority and as expressing his confidence that the federal Supreme Court would not dismiss the appeal and tell him he should have disregarded the state supreme court, "thrown its sheriff out of my window, and called out the militia to defend my position and submitted the question to the people regardless of the court."

Buys Shipbuilding Plant.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Bethlehem Steel Corporation has purchased the Fore River Shipbuilding Company of Quincy, Mass., a four-million-eight-hundred-thousand dollar corporation, builders of battleships and other war craft. The Fore River plant comprises shipbuilding and engine works covering 110 acres of ground. The company was incorporated in 1904 as a successor of the Fore River Ship and Engine Company.

CUBA'S AMNESTY BILL.

Measure Proposed in Lieu of One Disapproved by United States.

HAVANA, April 26.—A new amnesty bill, to take the place of the one passed in the last congress and signed by President Gomez, but which was vetoed by the executive owing to the strenuous objections of Arthur M. Breaure, the United States minister, acting under the direction of Secretary of State Bryan, passed the house yesterday unopposed.

The new bill extends amnesty only to 1,227 prisoners of the late negro insurrection and certain other political offenders. It will probably pass the senate and receive the presidential approval soon.
